Nazi Bid for Truce in Aerial Bombings Rejected by British

Quick, Explosive Reply Made by Hundreds of RAF Warplanes

BULLETIN
Cairo, May 2—(AP)—The presence of United States troops in the eastern Mediterranean was announced today by Major General Russell L. Maxwell, chief of the United States North African mission, but he said they were entirely service personnel.

Their job at present, General Maxwell told a press conference, was to support the combat troops of other allied countries engaged in the actual fighting.

(By The Associated Press)
Rejection of an apparent German bid for a truce in the aerial war with Britain was emphasized today as British warplanes attacked airmen in Nazi-occupied France and scored two hits on the deck of a German destroyer off the coast of Norway while German night attacks on British cities lapsed.

Week-long Nazi raids, labelled in Berlin as "reprisal" for smashing RAF assaults on German cities, were broken off on the heels of reports indicating that Germany was eager to call off the cross-channel air fighting.

London newspapers quoted dispatches from Berlin via Switzerland as saying:

"Is is semi-officially stated here that Germany will call off the bombing of English towns if the RAF will change its methods of bombing German cities."

"The present bombing duel is highly unpopular with the German people."

But the British gave a quick, explosive answer to the purported Nazi overtures, with hundreds of RAF bombers streaking across the channel at twilight yesterday to pound the German-held French "invasion coast."

The raiders attacked Calais, St. Omer and other targets before bad weather closed in to prevent large-scale night operations, a communiqué said.

In the Russian campaign, Soviet dispatches reported that 447 German ships, including 115 transports, a battleship and a cruiser, had been sent to the bottom of the Baltic since the war began.

Eastern Fighting Bloody
The Russians said heavy fighting raged on the front around long-besieged Leningrad, with more than 58,000 Germans killed or wounded and 248 Nazi planes destroyed in April alone.

In the bloody Staraya Russa sector, 130 miles south of Leningrad, where the German 16th army has been trapped for weeks, the Russians said they had killed 900 Nazis in two days of fighting.

German war front dispatches declared that German dive bombing planes destroyed a "center of armed resistance" on the northern front in Russia yesterday while north of Lake Ilmen ten Soviet tanks were severely damaged during land engagements.

On the North African front, the stalemate between Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's axis armies and the British remained unbroken except for patrol skirmishes.

Hotel Operated by Ex-Dixontite Destroyed by Fire Friday, April 24

Dixon friends and relatives of George McBride, former Dixontite, have received word of a disastrous fire at Huntsville, Tex., early on the morning of Friday, April 24, which almost totally destroyed the Plaza hotel which he operated. A light porter discovered the blaze which had gained considerable headway in a large foot mart in the hotel building at 4 o'clock in the morning.

The porter coolly set about arousing all of the guests, after notifying McBride, and succeeded in evacuating all of their guests and their baggage. Among the guests were 30 high school students from throughout Texas who were quartered at the Plaza during a press conference.

According to word received here, practically all of the hotel furnishings and much of Landlord McBride's effects were consumed by the flames. Plans are already under way to clear the debris and start work immediately upon rebuilding the hotel.

Schedule for Bus Service Completed, Starts Monday

Green River ordinance plant workers of Dixon and Amboy will enjoy the first rides in the new Dixon Transit Company's fleet of passenger buses Monday morning, it was announced today at the offices at 96 Galena avenue. The fleet of seven buses will arrive in Dixon this evening from Richmond, Ind., and will be quartered at the general terminal at the Watts garage, 113 Third street.

Following a conference between ordinance plant engineers and officers of the Transit Company, it was decided to give preference to the bus transportation service to plant workers during the present emergency. Special commuters tickets were placed on sale today at the terminals in Dixon and Amboy, at the company offices at 96 Galena avenue and may also be obtained from any of the bus drivers.

Schedule of Service
Beginning Monday morning bus service will be maintained between the terminal in Dixon and the Green River plant, starting at 7 o'clock in the morning, six minute service being maintained until 7:30, when 30 minute schedules will be maintained until 3 p. m. Six minute service will be resumed from 3 to 3:30 p. m., after which the 30 minute schedule will continue until 12 o'clock midnight. The schedule is daily and based on Central War Time. The schedule for the Amboy service will be the same as the route from Dixon to the plant.

Because of the necessity for using the buses to transport plant workers, it was announced today that it would be later next week before the service in the city proper would be started. Special

Solicitation for Fund for Christian Education May 7-15

The chairman for the house-to-house campaign of the Dixon Council of Christian Education announced today that solicitors will call between May 7 and May 15, and will answer any questions about the public school inclusion of week-day Christian education.

With the unanimous approval of the school board, and under the direct supervision of a certified grade-school instructor, over 500 children in Dixon's 4th, 5th and 6th grades will be offered these studies on Christian principles. All textbooks, except Bibles, will be furnished free, and any child can enroll for classes, regardless of religious persuasion, creed or race. The only requirement is a written consent from the parent or guardian.

Classes will be conducted on school time in the school buildings, but are not paid for with tax money. Contributions are the source of funds for this work, so when a solicitor calls, it is for the long-range purpose of building better youth today for a better community tomorrow. Each solicitor will carry an identification card.

SOLDIER WEDS ABROAD

London, May 2—(AP)—The first marriage between members of the United States and British armed services took place today when private Ernest P. Johnson of Arcadia, Wis., and Miss Dorothy Dempster of the British Women's Auxiliary Airforce took the vows.

Johnson, 23, will continue to live in army billets, since he did not have his commander's permission to marry. He did get leave for a week-end honeymoon.

Next Saturday, Private Raymond Longton of River Rouge, Mich., will be married in style at Westminster cathedral to Miss Irene May Heffernan of London.

Ben Berve Reelected Chairman of GOP Committee; Has No Opposition

Illinois Republicans laid the groundwork for their fall campaign Friday by re-electing Ben L. Berve of Rochelle as state chairman and selecting the men who will have much to do with writing the party platform and planning the biennial state convention.

Berve was chosen unanimously for his second two-year term as chairman in an organization meeting held in Springfield. Vice Chairman John F. Tyrrell of Chicago and other present officers also were re-elected.

After a perfunctory session of the G.O.P. state convention, Berve announced the appointment of State Senator Arnold P. Benson of Batavia as chairman of the party's platform committee. Benson, majority leader of the senate, was platform chairman of the Republican convention of 1940.

Democratic leaders, also convening their convention perfunctorily Friday as required by law, announced their full convention probably would be held in August in Springfield.

Chairman Berve said the re-elected Republican convention would be held in August also and added that sentiment expressed in an executive session of the state central committee favored Peoria as the meeting site although Rockford representatives were continuing to seek the meeting.

Both conventions lasted less than five minutes with Berve presiding at the Republican session and Arthur A. Sullivan of Chicago, Democratic state chairman in charge of the Democratic gathering.

Mandalay Reported Fallen to Nippon's Advancing Forces

Japanese Maneuvers Indicate Invasion of China Their Plan

Rudyard Kipling's storied city of Mandalay, blackened by fire and its golden temples smashed by Japanese bombs, was reported today to have fallen to Japan's invasion armies as the battle of Burma verged on another major disaster for the allies.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said Japanese troops occupied the city yesterday, climaxing a 410-mile advance from Rangoon since March 9.

Official allied confirmation of the Tokyo claim was lacking, but dispatches from the Burma front yesterday indicated the city was seriously threatened and that the British were falling back rapidly.

British headquarters at New Delhi acknowledged that retreating British troops had blown up a series of bridges below the city, including two spans of the famous AYA bridge, 10 miles southwest of Mandalay.

"On the Mandalay front, all British troops are being withdrawn from the position north of the Irrawaddy," a communiqué said.

The Irrawaddy river forms a big north-south bend immediately below the city of Kipling's song, once the glittering capital of Burmese kings.

Invasion of China Seen
The British officially accused Japanese warplanes of "systematic and indiscriminate bombing" in their northward sweep through Burma, setting towns afire and inflicting a terrible toll of civilian casualties.

Even more critical than the loss of Mandalay, which had already been cut off as a link on the Burma road, was the situation confronting the American Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese army on the Lashio front, 150 miles northeast of Mandalay.

In that sector, tanked Japanese columns in great force were reported to have pushed within 45 miles of the Chinese frontier, and it now seemed evident that Japan was bent on invading China through her "back door" instead of driving westward toward India.

Dispatches from Chungking said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was rushing heavy Chinese reinforcements to bolster Gen. Stilwell's outnumbered defenders, who were reported battling fierce-

Service Crosses to Hundred Soldiers

Washington, May 2—(AP)—Distinguished Service Crosses have been awarded to 100 American and Filipino soldiers and one naval officer for gallantry in the battle of the Philippines, the war department announced last night.

A number of the awards were announced individually at the time the decorations were made.

The list, covering the period since the invasion of the Philippines last December 1, included Lt. John D. Bulkeley, intrepid naval motor torpedo boat commander, who also wears the Navy Cross for his successes against Japanese shipping.

Others on the list included Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, present Philippines commander, and Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., bomber pilot credited with the destruction of the Japanese battleship Haruna. Kelly's award was posthumous.

Capt. Jesus A. Villamor, Filipino flying ace, headed the list of 28 of his country who received the army medal.

Final Instructions About Registration for Rationing Book

Readers Should Go Prepared to Answer All Questions Asked

Be prepared to answer questions shown above when you register for sugar rationing May 4, 5, 6, and 7, John C. Weigel, regional director of the Office of Price Administration, advised Illinois civilian consumers today.

Applicants for sugar rationing books were urged to familiarize themselves with the application form (illustrated above) and have the correct answers ready in order to speed registration.

A separate application must be made for every person for whom a ration book is issued, Weigel reminded, but only one member of each family unit is to appear at the nearest elementary school to apply for all members of the family.

"This is the biggest registration job ever undertaken in the United States in so limited a time," Weigel said. "Within four days 130,000,000 men, women and children will be registered and will receive their ration books."

Allotments for the first eight weeks consist of a pound of sugar to be allowed each registrant every two weeks, according to recent OPA announcements.

If you answer these questions promptly, Weigel estimates it will take only four minutes to fill out the application form. He enumerated these five points for registrants:

Five Points Listed

1. Applicants should be prepared with a list of members of their families, giving the exact name of each.

2. Be ready with an exact description of each member of the family unit, giving the height, weight, color of eyes, color of hair, age and sex of each.

3. The person who registers for the family unit must state his or her exact relationship to each member of it.

4. It is necessary to know to the pound just how much sugar is in possession of the household. The amount of sugar will be divided by the number of people in the family unit and stamps will be torn out by the registrar for all sugar in excess of two pounds per person. If more than four stamps have to be removed, issuance of the book will be withheld until later.

5. One—and only one—member of each family unit is to go to the elementary school nearest to the person's residence to register and to apply for ration books for the whole family. Single people not members of a family unit, even if they board with a family, must apply for themselves.

A family group has been defined by OPA as "a group of two or more individuals consisting entirely of persons who are living together in the same household who are related by blood or marriage."

Special days for registration for sugar-rationing books will be May 4 and May 5 from 12 to 5 p. m. at the Stony Point school, for members of the district. School will be dismissed at 12.

Navy's Losses in First Four Months of War Told: 2,991 Dead: 2,495 Missing

Casualty Lists Will Be Made Public by Dept. Next Week

Washington, May 2—(AP)—The navy announced today the loss of 5,486 dead and missing in the first four months of world-wide naval warfare.

The casualty recapitulation, the first of the war, included marine and coast guard personnel as parts of the navy and covered the period from Dec. 7 to April 15 inclusive. It gave this summary:

Dead 2,991.
Missing 2,495.
Wounded 907.
Total 6,393.

Officials said most of the casualties resulted from direct action with the enemy but included some lost in accidents at sea, in the air, or on war duty. Natural deaths were not included. The total may be increased somewhat by late-arriving reports from distant war zones.

The four-month total was half again as large as the casualty figure for the entire World War, when some 3,500 officers and men were killed in action or lost.

Includes Pearl Harbor
It included the Pearl Harbor incident. The latest figures on Pearl Harbor came from President Roosevelt several weeks ago and gave the dead as 2,114 navy men and 226 soldiers.

Other losses by the navy were in the bombing of the Cavite naval base on Manila bay, which followed shortly after the Pearl Harbor attack, and in numerous sea battles in both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Th large number of missing was not officially explained but was generally interpreted as having resulted primarily from the disappearance of American naval vessels during and after the battle for Java—the cruiser Houston and the destroyers Pope, Edsall and Pillsbury.

Publication of the totals is to be followed by announcement next weeks of casualty lists. The navy laid down this policy on issuance of the lists:

Policy Is Stated
"The navy department has compiled its casualty lists by states, and has restricted publication or radio broadcasting of the lists to the states or immediate areas

Fugitive Nazi Flier Captured by FBI in Texas Friday Night

Escapee From Canadian Prison Camp Caught in San Antonio Hotel

Detroit, May 2—(AP)—John S. Bugas, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here, said today that Lieut. Peter Krug, a Nazi flier who fled from a Canadian concentration camp and crossed into the United States at Detroit, was captured Friday night in San Antonio, Tex.

Krug, the FBI agent said, registered at a small San Antonio hotel whose "owner" became suspicious and called police. The fugitive Nazi made no attempt to resist, Bugas said, when two FBI men and two San Antonio detectives burst into his room.

Krug escaped from a prison camp at Bowmanville, Ont., on April 16 with Eric Bohle, another German flier. Bohle was recaptured at Niagara Falls, N. Y., but Krug made his way to Windsor, Ont., where he stole a small boat and rowed across the Detroit river.

Got Gun in Chicago
FBI agents said the flier went to the home of Mrs. Marguerite Bertelmann, who communicated with Max Stephan, operator of a restaurant on Detroit's east side. Stephan, German native who is a naturalized American citizen, was quoted by FBI agents as saying he fed Krug, gave him money, took him on a round of beer gardens and finally, on Sunday, April 19, put him on a bus for Chicago. Stephan is held under $25,000 bond on charges of harboring an enemy alien.

Dugas said that from papers found in Krug's possession at San Antonio, agents learned that he had gone to Chicago, and from there to the east coast, before making his way to Texas en route to a Mexican address. In Krug's possession, Dugas said, agents found a pistol which the Nazi had obtained in Chicago.

EDUCATOR'S PREDICTION
St. Louis, May 2—(AP)—If the "too heavy" taxes against business interests are eased after the war, this country will experience prosperity such as it has never known, Dr. Isaac Lippincott, professor of economics at Washington University, asserted last night. Dr. Lippincott in a speech at the fifth annual convention of the National Council on State Legislation also termed the proposed limitation of individual incomes as "nonsense."

Jap Report of Russ Ship Sunk by U. S. Sub Probably Propaganda
Tokyo (from Japanese Broadcasts) May 2—(AP)—The Tokyo radio declared today the 4,761-ton Russian merchant ship Angriestrol was torpedoed last night by a United States submarine or one of its allies and left in a sinking condition off the southwest coast of Kyushu, southernmost of the main Japanese islands.

The radio said the 2,539-ton Japanese steamer Calcutta Maru also was sunk by a submarine yesterday in nearby waters.

Torpedoing of the Russian vessel, it said, was disclosed by a Japanese merchant ship which was reported to have found it last night and rescued 50 members of the crew.

There has been no confirmation of this Tokyo report from any Russian or other non-axis source. Whether true or false, of course, such a story would serve Japanese propaganda purposes not only as an attempt to provoke Russian-American friction but also to picture Russian ships as trading in Japanese waters.

Portable Six-Room House Which Can Be Set Up in Three Hours Is Shown
Chicago, May 2—(AP)—The seventh annual Home Show which opened today in the Coliseum holds the answers to many puzzles which government material priorities have posed for the property owner who wants to improve or equip his property.

With chrome, steel, copper and other important home construction materials no longer available to the average person for unstinted use, wood is regaining the dominance it held at the turn of the century.

Ingenious new uses of wood in furniture, decoration and functional appliances are featured in several of the 100 exhibits of the show which will continue through May 10.

Sleeper Plows Into Storm-Lashed Ridge Near Salt Lake City

Two Navy Officers and Baby Among Victims of Air Tragedy

By OTIS J. PUSEY

Salt Lake City, May 2—(AP)—A sleeper transport ploughed into a storm-lashed ridge within sight of Salt Lake City's airport late last night, killing 14 passengers and a crew of three.

George Benton Gearhart, watchman at an inn on the highway about a mile below the site and first to reach the scene, said one man lived for a few minutes.

All others, including one infant, apparently were instantly killed. Scars on the ground indicated the United Airlines plane struck on the edge of a shallow gully near the summit of the ridge, approximately four and one-half miles from the airport, destination of the east-bound San Francisco transport.

Wreckage was scattered over a wide area. Some bodies, mangled, were thrown clear. Bodies in the wreckage were charred by a gasoline-fueled fire that flared up as the big liner smashed against the rocky slope.

One Body Nude
One body, entirely nude, lay in the bottom of the gully, untouched by fire.

Gearhart said he watched the plane circle and glide along the ridge, apparently headed for the airport. Airlines officials said visibility was good. Gearhart said a light rain was falling, but the clouds were high and he could see the plane's lights.

"I watched the plane fly along the mountain and saw it hit. I could tell it hit the side of the mountain because the lights in the plane seemed to bounce."

"About two or three seconds after the plane hit, there was a huge flash and the plane began to burn."

Gearhart estimated it took him 25 minutes to reach the scene. He found one man alive and tried to talk to him.

"I think the man knew I was there but he couldn't talk. He opened his eyes. He was groaning and waving his arms. I found some blankets near the wreckage and covered him up."

ROSTER OF VICTIMS

San Francisco, May 2—(AP)—The United Air Lines office at San Francisco issued the following list of passenger and crew aboard the airliner which crashed near the Salt Lake City airport:

Captain Donald W. Brown, pilot, San Francisco.

Howard Miner, co-pilot, San Francisco.

Neva Cantwell, stewardess, San Francisco.

Marvin Shapiro, Chicago.

Lieut. Herman J. Frankenburg, U. S. army, Wichita, Kas.

J. Kershnik, Cheyenne.

Mrs. J. A. Lloyd and year-old infant, J. A. Lloyd, Jr., of Burlingame, Calif.

C. R. Drenk, Fruitvale, Calif.

Armond D. Herg, Cambridge, Mass.

M. L. Patterson, from New Jersey, town unknown.

F. B. Vose, Brooklyn, N. Y.

R. P. Barrett, en route to St. Louis.

Mrs. J. Palermo, Cleveland.

C. M. Cole, San Francisco.

Building Improvements

SMALL HOMES • STORES • APARTMENTS • MODERNIZATION

by PAUL T. HAAGEN, A.I.A.

BUILDING PERMIT
In most cities and communities, it is required that you have a building permit from the local government before you start to build your house.

DUAL PURPOSE ROOMS

Now that utility rooms located off of the kitchen are coming to be more popular, it is advisable to consider these rooms from the standpoint of their use for other purposes than just washing and ironing, and the place for the automatic heating equipment. After all, the washing and ironing in the average family take up only about two days of the week, so why not hide this equipment under cupboards or cabinets and make this a room where space is provided for golf clubs, wet overcoats, raincoats and all of the things usually found at the rear of the house?

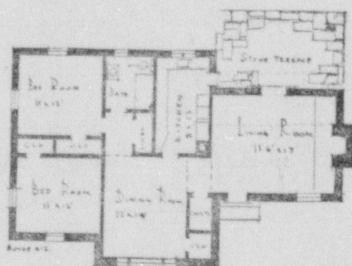

One of the disadvantages of living in the country is the tracking of mud or sand during wet weather. This dual purpose utility room may be made into a sort of rear entry with linoleum or a painted cement floor and where the various outdoor garments which may be wet or muddy may be left. It would be advisable to have at least one small chair in this room so it is possible to remove rubbers and galoshes easily.

Then too, many times this utility room opens on to the back yard where gardening is carried on. It is very nice for the gardener in the family to have this combination room in which a work bench for potting and transplanting may be carried on. Space for the lawn mower and other grass cutting equipment might well be placed in a closet on the outside of the house.

A shower bath in this utility room will be greatly appreciated by many members of the family.

Nurses Record Sheets
B. F. Shaw Printing Company

NO BASEMENT

This very interesting house has many fine features... Note the plan arrangement and the satisfying elevation... There is no basement and the modern, quiet, clean heating plant and automatic washing machine are placed conveniently in the kitchen.

MIRRORED SHELVES

A modern apartment had a mirror over the fireplace. There was no mantel. Bookshelves were placed around the mirror, forming a frame, and the glass backing reflected the color of the books and the art objects placed thereon.

DAMP ATTICS

Sometimes when a roof has been very tightly built sweating or condensation will appear on the under side of the roof in the attic. This is caused by the warm air from the house, which contains more or less moisture, rising and striking the cold under surface of the roof. The remedy is ventilation in the attic or the under side of the rafters may be covered with a heavy, waterproof paper or an insulating board.

WINDOW CORDS

In double-hung windows, it is important that pulley and cord be of a good quality and that the weights properly balance the sash to avoid annoyance and difficulty in raising and lowering the windows and to reduce the cost of maintenance.

LIABILITY INSURANCE

In most states the law provides for compensation to a workman if he is injured during the construction of a building. It is therefore quite important that an owner should see that his building contractor carries compensation insurance in order to protect himself against loss. It is possible for the owner to take out liability insurance to protect himself against injury to other people who may wander on to the place. It is quite possible that even though a person has no business on your property, a small child may sue you if he is hurt by falling from a roof or into a basement.

LAWNS AND GARDENS

Lawns and gardens are apt to suffer from insufficient water rather than from too much. Good watering equipment such as sprinklers, hose and outlets, will help overcome this difficulty.

KITCHEN REDECORATING

In considering the redecorating of the kitchen, begin with the walls. They should always be clean and bright.

MODERN KITCHENS

Cabinets and cases and the layout of the kitchen require careful planning. When designing the kitchen, it is a mistake to build all the cabinets of the same size. They should be built according to the use to which they are to be put. Properly located counter space should be provided at a uniform height of 35 inches above the floor. If counters are not the same height, there will be unnecessary breakage of dishes. Counter tops may be of wood and in that case they should be of the type that withstands water. Marble, glass, and tile tops are fine but are expensive and too hard to be practical. Dishes and glasses are easily broken on these tops.

The linoleum counter top is one of the most successful used today. It is a simple matter to apply the linoleum to a wood counter top. Linoleum is not only easily kept clean but it is almost everlasting. Counters in a kitchen should be at least 22 inches wide and should extend beyond the lower portion about 2 inches in order to allow for foot room. Knee space should also be provided at some one of the counter sections so when sitting on a stool the knees may extend comfortably under the counter.

There are some cabinets that should not be quite so deep as the ordinary dish cabinets. Cupboards for holding spices may have a shelf that is only 4 or 5 inches deep and these can very well go around the windows in most kitchens.

KITCHENS

The in-a-line kitchens, that is, with the sink on one side with windows above for light, and on the opposite side of the range and refrigerator, is a good arrangement. You should allow at least four feet between the front edge of the sink and the front edge of the range. The range is best near the dining room door. Such a kitchen may be nicely arranged in a space eight by twelve feet.

SMART AND THRIFTY

Many an older couple has turned over the large family home to the younger folks, and Mother and Father have built a tiny cottage home which is just large enough for themselves, easily financed and easily paid for efficient and less costly to operate. It has the advantage of saving energy and labor.

Small houses may be very smart and very thrifty today. They may have all the conveniences and all the comforts of the larger house reduced to the important elements of living. Because a house is small is no reason why it need be unlovely or uncomfortable. In fact, some of the small houses of this country are little jewels in themselves and people are becoming more and more willing to sacrifice their larger homes for these small, compact, convenient dwellings.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS BRING THEIR FIRST SEASON OF PLAY-PRODUCING TO CLOSE

There is little doubt in the minds of those who sat in the Loveland Community House auditorium the past two evenings and chuckled their way through the Community Players' two-night run of the well-known comedy, "The Charm School," that Dixon's ambitious little theater group hath what it taketh, when it comes to staking a new claim in the field of arts for their townspeople. The Players really did themselves proud in this week's production, which brings their first season of play-producing to a highly successful close.

After careful selection of a show that would draw heavily on the staff side of the players in the matter of casting, in order to bridge gaps left by the selective service board, the Players also were called upon to make substitutions to meet two last-minute emergencies. Nevertheless, the play was well directed, splendidly acted, and ingeniously staged, a combination that resulted in one of the best shows produced in Dixon in some time.

Miss Eunice Geraldson did a fine bit of pinch-hitting in her portrayal of the hero-smitten Miss Curtis, and when Jack Gannon contracted measles just two days before the opening performance, Ward Smith came to the rescue in Jack's role of Jim Simpson, a male character "who toils not and has never seriously considered spinning."

The play, a wholesome yarn about a girls' school in the east where charm courses are being injected into the curriculum, was presented with refreshing naturalness, under the direction of Mrs. J. V. Ridolph and her assistant, Louis Leydig. Claiming a large share of honors was Mrs. Randall Warfel, technical director, whose lighting and sound crews turned out a "buggy scene" that is regarded as the finest thing the Little Theater group has done this season. The audience became so engrossed with the illusion of a buggy on the stage and listening to the clip-clop of the horses' hoofs that it didn't even notice there wasn't really a horse behind the footlights.

As a whole, the final show of the Players' season was so well handled by the actors that it would be unfair to mention individual acting honors. Orval Gearhart, Jr. headed the list of masculine members of the cast. His good looks, together with all the poise befitting a young man who has always longed to become a teacher, and a tendency to give his colleagues an opportunity to up-stage him, were outstanding contributions to the show.

John Sullivan appeared as a serious-minded young man, Franklin Cline was enjoyable in a what, what, what role, and LeMar Wells did well with the role of an older man, Mr. Johns.

The young women of the cast, headed by Betty Allen, were delightful. Betty was a charming young love-stricken boarding school student; Dorothy Cromwell made the most of her opportunity in a character part, highlighted by a stirring plea to always be the head of a girls' school; and Mary Trombold brought an easy naturalness to the role of Sally Boyd.

Completing the cast were Marie Hein, as Muriel Dougherty; Rose Sterling, as Elsie Spelvin; Charlotte Ruggles in the role of Alix Mercier, and Janice Brant, portraying Lillian Stafford.

The well-rounded season that has offered "The Male Animal," "The Patsy," and "The Charm School," leave the play-goers with an earnest wish for continuance of the Community Players next year.

FORTIETH YEAR

Mrs. W. K. Washburn of 2001 Royal Palm avenue, Fort Myers, Fla., is announcing that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Bechtelheimer of Dade City, Fla., will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of their wedding, which was solemnized May 7, 1902, by the Rev. Finis Ideman, at the parsonage of the First Christian church here.

The couple have two daughters, Mrs. O. E. Bazzell of Zephyrhills, Fla., and Mrs. Washburn. There are also two grandchildren.

WILL ATTEND DINNER DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carle will be acting as chaperones at a formal dinner-dance being given this evening by the Knox college chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon at the Custer hotel in Galesburg. Tomorrow is to be observed as Mothers Day at the fraternity house, where the Cadles' son, Jack, resides.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. L. E. Jacobson was a guest player, when members of an afternoon club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. C. B. Lindell for luncheon and contract. Mrs. Jacobson and Mrs. Franklin Roe received score favors at the card tables.

Mrs. Gerald Jones is to be the next hostess.

SUMMER ADDRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beveridge have moved to their summer cottage, west of Oregon.

Lieut. Cleveland Weds in Colorado

Lieut. Robert Cleveland, son of the Ralph Cleavelands of 318 Eleventh street, Rochelle, claimed Miss Shirley Ann Moore, daughter of the Russell Moores of Parkridge, Ill., as his bride Saturday evening, April 25, at the Mount View Presbyterian church in Denver, Colo. The Rev. Mr. Barrett performed the single ring ceremony at 6 o'clock. The bride wore white faille, fashioned on princess lines, with a fingertip veil which fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried calla lilies.

Miss Jane Cleveland, student at Carlton college, traveled by airplane from Northfield, Minn., to be her sister's maid of honor. She was dressed in shell pink, and carried a bouquet of larkspur.

Lieut. Joseph Mitchell of Texas was best man, and 12 classmates of the bridegroom at officers' training school formed a guard of honor for the bridal party.

Mrs. Moore, mother of the bride, wore sea foam green, with a corsage of moon roses. Mrs. Cleveland, mother of the bridegroom, chose powder blue, accented by a corsage of pink moon roses.

A reception followed the wedding at the Stratton room of the Brown Palace hotel in Denver, and dinner was served to 35 guests in the Emerald room of the same hotel.

The bridal table formed a large V, with the bride and groom seated before a three-tiered cake that was topped with spun sugar propellers.

Since their return from a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the couple have been at home in Alexandria, La., where the bridegroom is stationed with the army air corps. Rochelle guests at the wedding included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cleveland, and the Earl Cleavelands, all of Rochelle.

Mrs. Cleveland is a junior at the University of Illinois, and is a member of Alpha Xi Delta. The bridegroom attended Beloit college, where his fraternity was Sigma Chi. At 1 p. m. Saturday, just five hours before the couple's wedding, he received his commission as second lieutenant in the United States Army air corps.

DINNER-DANCE
Mr. and Mrs. Amos Sharp and Mrs. Kenneth R. Wilson will attend a dinner-dance in the officers' club at Camp Grant tonight.

Polo Girl Will Become Bride of Dixon Man, Today

The Rev. C. K. Carpenter of Baileyville, who heard the wedding vows of the bride's parents in 1904, will return to Polo this afternoon to perform a nuptial ceremony in which Miss Vivian Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hicks of Polo, is to become the bride of Robert Perry of Freeport, son of the Frank Perrys of Dixon. The 3 o'clock service will be read at the Hicks home on East King street. Mr. Carpenter was formerly pastor of Polo's Methodist church.

The bridal party will stand before two tall candelabra, with baskets of white stocks and pink tulips at either side.

Miss Hicks will pin a corsage of pink and blue flowers to the shoulder of the beige suit she has selected for her bridal attire. Her accessories are blue.

Mrs. Austin Stahler, as matron of honor, will be wearing aqua, with pink accessories, and pink flowers will form her shoulder bouquet. Charles Oyler, Jr., is to be Robert's best man.

Miss Hicks was graduated from Polo Community high school in 1936, and until recently, was with the Northwestern Telephone company in Polo. Mr. Perry, a graduate of Dixon high school with the class of 1937, is employed at the Electrical Supply company in Freeport.

Pink tapers, and a three-tiered cake will decorate the refreshment table at a reception to be held at the Hicks residence, following the ceremony. After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Freeport.

P. T. A. Honors Mother Members

Violets, gathered from the nearby woods by students of the Stony Point school, were presented in corsages to mothers attending last evening's meeting of the school's Parent-Teacher association. Approximately 75 members and guests were present to enjoy the following program:

Vocal solos, "How About You," "Thank Your Lucky Stars" and "Stripes," and "Dear Mom," Mrs. George Healy, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Lambert; "Teach Children About Money," Mrs. Charles Lawson; introduction of Mothers' day selections, Gerald Hink and Melvin Jacobs; "Origin of Mothers' Day," Jo Anne Risley; "Mothers' Day in America," Lois Munselle; "A President's Proclamation," Delilah Laidig; "The Carnation," Renee Jeanguenat; article, Darline Bay; "Washington's Mother," Betty McClanahan; "Lincoln's Mother," Norma McClanahan; "Mothers of the Bible" and quotations about mothers, Marilyn Stanley, Lorenzo Contreras, and Alan Bowman; poem, "Mother," Darline Bay; solo, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," Lois Munselle; poem, "Somebody's Mother," Marilyn Stanley; song, "Sweet and Low," the group; "M-O-T-H-E-R," the group.

Mrs. Lawson emphasized the importance of teaching children how to handle allowances, small earnings, and other money. Recordings were played, demonstrating the school's new electric victrola, purchased recently by the P. T. A. Mrs. Ray Munselle announced commodity registration hours for 12-5 p. m. May 4-5. Edward A. Jones made an appeal for the purchase of war savings bonds and stamps.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

DINNER-DANCE
Mr. and Mrs. Amos Sharp and Mrs. Kenneth R. Wilson will attend a dinner-dance in the officers' club at Camp Grant tonight.

FANFARE OF TRUMPETS USHERS IN PATRIOTIC PERFORMANCE AT ANNUAL ORCHESTRA FESTIVAL

A visitor from foreign shores, visiting America for the first time, might have been ushered into the Dixon high school auditorium last evening, when the annual all-city grade school Orchestra Festival was in progress, and informed: "This Is America!" The program, which also included special numbers by several high school musicians, was stirringly patriotic, and was representative of the best that is in young America.

More than 100 students thrilled their audience in the opening fanfare. Marching down the aisles, the earnest young musicians took their places on the stage, summoned by 13 trumpeters, whose three-part harmony from the orchestra pit, was echoed by 13 other trumpeters from the balcony.

The trumpeters included Harold Frances, Donald Jeanguenat, Pauline Hardt, Robert Eshelman, Marvin Kennaugh, Walter Knack, Dick Worley, Herbert Hoover, Tom Brevitt, David Crawford, Royal Youngblood, Ned Auman, Raymond Hood, Russell Byers, Arthur Bonadurer, Paul Dewey, Bob Marshall, Helen Quaco, Elwin Quaco, Alice Schmidt, Joe Ash, Jim Chamness, Howard Horton, Jack Leer, Howard Dunn and Harold Dunn. The opening number on the stage was a baton twirling demonstration by 21 high-stepping drum majorettes, whose white satin uniforms glistened with gold braid and gold buttons. The majorettes, led by Drum Major Donald Peterson, and directed by Harriet Fuls, were Martha Ann McNichols, Sara Lynn McNichols, Carol Green, Bonnie Schuler, Joan Westgor, Joan Whitlow, Betty Cramer, Doris Heckman, Gloria Allwood, Mickey Jewett, Norma Coalley, Beverly Nelles, Shirley Houston, Betty Spader, Norma McBride, Maureen Tyne and Carmen Larsen. Ranging in age from six to 14 years and representing all grades, the baton twirlers were featured individually and in groups of seven.

"A Graduation Overture" by the orchestra was followed by little Kenneth Huck's reading of "The Icicle." Sue Nelles, talented young violinist and singer, appeared in Indian attire to sing "Pale Moon."

Miss Marilee Burns, who expects to leave soon to make her home in Indiana, and who has appeared as accompanist and soloist on many Dixon programs, assisted at the piano several times during the evening.

Donna Clara McCordie played her accordion, following the orchestra's next selection, "At the Races."

Calvin Bacon, trumpeter, played "The Holy City" as a solo; Gordon Rutt, clarinetist, chose Percy Grainger's beloved "Country Gardens" as his solo; and Wayne Thomas gave Haydn's "Serenade" as a flute solo.

Other numbers included "Desert Sands" by the orchestra; "Novelty Taps" by Jim Brady, with two silver spoons; "Spanish Bolero," piano specialty by Beverly Nelles; a patriotic song group by Marilyn Cooper; a novelty trio by Lloyd Warren, Walter, flutist, Donald Kieffer, Sousaphonist adaption of the bass tuba, and Bud Bradford, pianist, who presented "The Nightingale and the Frog;" and Harold France, a sixth grader, whose talented approaches near-professional quality, playing "Willow Echoes" as a trumpet solo.

"Amariis" by the orchestra was followed by a double-reed bassoon solo, "The Jolly Dutchman," played by Loren Wilson; a flute pastorella by Lloyd Warren, Walter, and a trio composed of Donald Kieffer, William Haefliger and Bud Bradford. Marie Haefliger and Bud Bradford played Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" as a piano duet.

Members of the Dixon Girl Scout council will meet at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Loveland Community House.

FROM WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Snader of Washington, D. C., arrived in Dixon last evening. Mr. Snader, who has been serving as secretary to Congressman Leo E. Allen, expects to leave soon to join the armed forces. Mrs. Snader, the former Miss Louise Hintz, will remain here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Hintz of Daysville road.

ning, Joan Dwyre and Zoe Anne Baxley were usherettes.

Other orchestra members not previously listed included Charles Bareis, concert master; Betty Freichs, Delores Frerichs, Vincent Rutt, Alberta Hanneken, Beverly Billinger, John Pierson, Charles Christensen, Betty Hoover, Don Emmert, Barbara Moore, Lona McCordie, Janet Shaw, Eileen Nielsen, Lavond Albright, Mavis Westgor, Milo Cacchetti, Kenneth Briggs, Thelton Meyers, Jane Sharpe, Barbara Donahoe, Yvonne Eades, Frances Muhleback, Dean Wentling, Robert Meeks, Vivian Lee Kerley, Arthur Horton, Donald Russell, Merrill Richards, Carmen Schofield, Donald Keller, David Livingston, Harold Salzman, Evelyn Hinds, James Reiter, Jeanette Andrews, Marvin Kennaugh, Robert Sproul, Jack Hackett, Dick Stitzel, Charles Schumacher, Donna Mae Palmer, Henry Woodyatt, Ronald Woodbridge, and Albert Bellows.

A huge American flag was unfurled in full spread on the stage against a background of dark green curtains. The "Red, White and Blue March" closed the orchestral demonstration, and the program was brought to a close with the audience rising to the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Proceeds from last evening's program will be used to purchase new instruments and accessories and repair old ones for the schools.

The entire concert was under the direction of Orville Westgor, who has had charge of orchestras and bands in the Dixon city schools for the past 20 years. Mr. Westgor, a graduate of the Wrangell Conservatory of Music in Milwaukee, studied for several years with the Norwegian master, Sigurd Richevold, and the Italian master, Oton de Scheda. He was a violin soloist for the Manitowish Concert company, touring the middle west for a number of seasons, and was formerly director of the Capitol theater orchestra in Manitowish, and directed orchestras at the Plankington and Wisconsin hotels in Milwaukee.

Last night's Orchestra Festival is a splendid example of National Defense on the home front; it is patriotic Young America on parade.

Elgin Woman Awarded Medal for Heroism

Pittsburgh, May 2—(AP)—For her heroic rescue of an aged man who was attacked by an enraged bull, Mrs. Hattie F. Garrelts, a farm wife of near Elgin, Ill., yesterday was awarded a bronze medal and praised by the Carnegie Hero Fund-Commission for her act of bravery.

The commission cited Mrs. Garrelts, 48, for saving the life of Carl J. Meier, 74, last Nov. 24, 1941.

Meier, a farm hand, was knocked to the ground by a bull, which repeatedly butted him.

The citation said that Meier got hold of a ring in the bull's nose and Mrs. Garrelts, "who was not robust," struck the bull in the head with an axe. The bull jerked free from Meier's hold and backed away. Mrs. Garrelts then aided Meier to walk 65 feet to an exit and out of the farm yard. Meier suffered serious injuries but recovered.

is being fought on many fronts, at home, on the farm and in industry. The men in the armed forces stand ready to make the supreme sacrifice.

We, too, must sacrifice. We must give up many of the things that have made our lives more pleasant, we must unite and cooperate in every way.

This bank is ready and willing to cooperate with our government, our local Defense Project and all firms and individuals engaged in the war effort. We recommend and urge the purchase of U. S. War Bonds.

A Thought for Today

The righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God; no man knoweth either love or hatred by all that is before them.—Ecclesiastes 9:1.

Man proposes, and God disposes.—Aristotle.

Let's Not Be Naive

The conclusion of a New York legislative committee, that Communism may menace the United States even more in the future than it has in the past, should not be brushed aside casually just because Russia happens to be our military ally for the moment.

Neither should the danger be minimized on any theory that radicalism is a problem peculiar to New York, or to the larger cities generally. There is ample evidence of its nation-wide activity.

The committee's statement is partially limited by the fact that the legislators were restricted to the relatively narrow field of Stalinist activity centering in the public school system of a single city.

Handicapped thus, after 16 months of intelligently arduous digging the New York committee warns that Communism and Communists are not working for the benefit of the United States, or for the cause of democracy. They are working for Communism, and for Russia, and for Josef Stalin.

Noting that there is no substantial evidence that Communism's 20-year designs to instigate a proletarian revolution in the United States have been abandoned, or will be, the legislators note the assumption that "the subversive tactics which have been temporarily disguised will emerge again."

"If, in the meantime, the Communists succeed in extending their influence under cover of their present pseudo-patriotic garb, while we naively take them at face value and permit ourselves to be hoodwinked into a false sense of security, we will find to our sorrow that the problem will be more acute in days to come than it has in the past."

This is true of the schools, of which primarily it was said. It is true equally of all government services, and of those trades unions serving key industries, upon which Stalinist organizers have concentrated.

It is not the dictum of red-baiters. The men who directed the inquiry were known for liberalism, to the extent that some had been accused of radicalism. Moreover, their conclusion is identical with that of one of the great liberals of all time, Prof. John Dewey, who has written of this very problem:

"The American people should bear clearly in mind that Stalin's actions—and those of his agents and sympathizers here—will be governed by his own interest as he conceives it, regardless of the efforts of or the consequences to his present democratic allies... Stalin knows what his apologists here apparently do not know—that totalitarianism and democracy will not mix.

This is not to suggest that we relax in the slightest our all-out effort to help Stalinist Russia against Nazi Germany. On the contrary, let us expand and speed up that program to the limit of our capacity.

But let us keep always close before our eyes the distinction between military Russia, which is helping us to beat the axis, and Communism, which hates democracy more than Nazism but fears Hitler more than Roosevelt.

Universal War Service

President Roosevelt's war manpower commission is an important step in the right direction. It recognizes officially what long has been apparent, that the recruitment of labor for production ranks in this war on full parity with the conscription of manpower for the fighting services.

Step by step, slowly but surely, we are approaching the goal of universal war service. The men we need to carry guns we take, and send them where they will do the most good. The factories we need to manufacture armament and munitions we commandeer, and tell them what to do. The workers we need to serve those factories we must likewise take, and assign where they can serve most efficiently. It isn't pleasant. There is nothing nice about total war.

All Upset

Provided the statement be understood in the limited sense in which it is used, it is truthful to say that the United Nations now have seized the offensive from Germany.

That does not mean that we are about to launch a do-or-die drive to recapture the occupied countries.

But in the war of nerves we've taken charge. We have Hitler up in the air, Mussolini worried sick, and Tokyo begging the Japs not to get excited. Which is all to the good. When a snake is trying to assimilate an over-greasy feast, it's pleasant and profitable to upset his digestion. He might regurgitate.

What's the Hurry?

The spreading movement for lower automobile speed limits should have the whole-hearted support of every motorist, out of sheer selfishness if patriotism isn't enough motive.

At 40 miles an hour, the average automobile will go almost three miles farther on each gallon of gas than at 55 miles an hour, and slightly more than six miles to the gallon farther than at 65 miles an hour.

At 35 miles an hour, your tires will average to last more than twice as long as they will at 55.

Those Normandie Fires

The prolonged series of damaging fires on the French liner Normandie is becoming scandalous. The third blaze, like the first and second, is described as accidental. The probability of sabotage is discounted. Certainly we have no more evidence of sabotage than has the government, if as much. But if carelessness once a month did as serious damage to our personal property, a lot of supervisory heads would roll into baskets in short order.

A reformer is a man who wants things his own way.

Not so many people are driving to work, but just as many have to be driven.

Forest Fires Are Seen As a Menace To The War Work

New Penalties Urged For Those Starting Fires

Washington—(Wide World)—A fire breaks out in a forest along the Atlantic coastline and an American merchant ship, hovering close to the shore in an attempt to escape detection by an enemy submarine, is silhouetted upon the blazing background.

Other forest fires may get out of control and burn railroad bridges and interrupt the movement of war supplies and troops at a time when such interruptions cause serious delays in the battle of production and in the development of strategic plans.

Or such fires may threaten military camps, war production plants and other vital facilities located in forest areas.

Some of these things have happened. Others could happen.

Because of these wartime possibilities—which have been pointed out by Secretary of War Stimson—the U. S. forest service is calling upon civilians in forest areas to help wage a campaign to prevent fires and to help fight them when they break out.

Recognizing the possibility that enemy agents or unfriendly aliens might set fires, the service plans to ask the Justice Department to prosecute under anti-sabotage laws persons who might be accused of setting fires. Those acts provide maximum penalties of 30 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Maximum penalties under peacetime incendiary laws are five years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Summer Brings Dangers

Roy Headley, chief of the fire control division, said the forest service was fearful that serious fires would break out this spring and summer in forests in eastern and southeastern states because of drought-like conditions that have prevailed in these states during the last two years.

Headley said the forest service would have to lean more heavily on civilian assistance because it had lost many of its experienced forestry guards and fighters to the armed forces and to war industries, and because other sources of assistance—including the civilian conservation corps—and the reservoir of unemployed men—had been reduced.

Headley said that throughout forest areas, local farmers, ranchers, miners, logging and sawmill crews, and small town businessmen were showing an awareness of the danger and were organizing fire-fighting groups. The forest service is providing technical instruction and guidance where possible.

The forest service, Headley said, is not overlooking the possibility that enemy bombers might fly over forest areas and drop fire bombs and other devices designed to start widespread fires.

CHARLES BALL

The funeral of Charles Ball, 12-year-old boy who was fatally hurt in a collision between his bicycle and an automobile driven by Donald Blackburn Wednesday evening, will be held at the First Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the pastor, Dr. J. H. Hughes, officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

The Sunday service, unusual in Dixon because of an agreement among pastors and funeral directors to avoid holding such on the Sabbath Day, is being held because Ensign Leslie Marshall of Annapolis, Md., an uncle of the crash victim, must leave Dixon Sunday afternoon in order to get back to his post before the expiration of his short furlough.

ALEX TURNER

The funeral of Alex Turner, who passed away Thursday morning after a long illness, was held this afternoon at St. Luke's Episcopal church, with the pastor, the Rev. Fr. B. Norman Burke, officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

In addition to the widow and two sons, Clarence and Lloyd, who have been published as Mr. Turner's survivors, he also leaves a sister, Mrs. Charles Heaton of Platte, S. D.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in Whole or in Part Strictly Prohibited.)

Washington, May 1.—Mr. Roosevelt was disgusted when his civilian defense administrator, Jim Landis, used the phrase "termination of the illumination" to describe what people should do in a black-out. He demanded plain English and changed it to "turn out the lights."

So when the President described his labor purposes to "stabilize the remuneration," a bold reporter at his press conference asked him if he could not also translate that into plain English. The President only told the reporter to listen to a subsequent speech which afforded no greater clarity about what is to be done.

The President did not direct the War Labor Board to freeze wages. He told it merely to try to stabilize them, case by case, on the basis of the cost of living. That is just about what the government is supposed to have been doing the last few months, holding down the cost of living and holding down wages without freezing them.

But in the 45 labor cases tried so far by the board, 43 unions have been granted wage increases. Only one of these was directly ordered. The other increases were granted by negotiations under the benevolent influence of the board.

Exactly what the board is now to do further to "stabilize the remuneration" is not yet clear to anybody, including the board. Roosevelt seems to have handed it a bewildering phrase and a problem, not a solution.

Four important cases are now pending in which specific answers must be found. The workers of Little Steel, General Motors, the Aluminum Company and Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company are all asking the board for a dollar a day increase.

Now, if the board employs Roosevelt's formula, it will have to grant much more than the unions asked.

The Little Steel contract was made April 1, a year ago. Since that time, the cost of living has increased 12 per cent. But the dollar a day increase the unions are asking is only a 10 per cent increase, and apparently no official authority believes even this is justified.

All advance off-the-record comment from the board indicates a very small increase is all that will be seriously considered. Thus the policy is obviously not going to be retroactive.

But if Roosevelt wanted to "stabilize the remuneration," with the cost of living frozen now on, he would have frozen wages as of today and instructed the board to handle future cases on that basis.

Such a direct method was proposed in the general economic plan understood to have been submitted to him by his counselors, Vice-President Wallace and Price Fixer Henderson. The President turned it down.

Now all Board Chairman Davis has said is that he wants to stop the upward wage trend and yet preserve flexibility. This leaves the matter in just about the same confused state as when the President handed it to him.

The final policy must therefore be established by the board as a whole in individual cases, and probably run toward two general principles:

1. To prevent inequalities in wages, that is, as between competitive manufacturers bidding for skilled workers.

2. To fix standard wages rates so as not to cause further increases in the cost of living.

All this makes one point crystal clear. Before stabilization of the remuneration, there will have to be some stabilization of the remunerators.

Roosevelt's promise to "stabilize the prices received by growers" sounds clearer, but isn't. His theory is that by fixing retail prices, he can indirectly level farm prices.

But Congress has told him in legislation he cannot do any fixing until farm prices get to 110 per cent of parity. They are now slightly under 100 per cent on the average.

What the president has done through Henderson in general price freezing, therefore seems to be a violation of the law. He has, for instance, frozen the price of bread, and therefore by indirectness supposedly frozen the price of wheat at around 75 per cent (which it is now), when the law tells him he must let it go to 110 per cent.

There may be plenty of argument about this, but no action. The president is confronting Congress with an accomplished fact. There is little likelihood that Congress will attempt seriously to undo it.

This is not the most perplexing of the complications. The Senate agriculture committee is about to write into the new agriculture appropriation bill an amendment to prevent Roosevelt's Commodity

Adv't

Credit corporation from selling surplus government farm products at less than parity.

This would prevent him from using his sales power to hold prices down. His corporation, for instance, has been selling surplus corn and wheat for feed. The proposed senatorial limitation would stop this.

Furthermore, Agriculture Secretary Wickard's announced program favors future expanded production in non-surplus products, such as soybeans, cheese, tomatoes, vegetables being sold to the British.

Henderson's price freezing policies will interfere with this activity, because it will make growing of these products no more remunerative. A subsidy is being planned to stimulate that interest.

The government, thus, proposes to pay for the subsidizing of the expansion of some farm products, and continue benefit payments for the curtailment of others.

Thus when Roosevelt says that he will "stabilize the prices received by the growers," he neglected to mention that he is dealing on the side with many more questions than prices. He also meant that in "stabilizing the price received by the growers," he will do it at the point and in the manner of his own choosing.

DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH

Jefferson Barracks One of the Largest Camps in the U. S.

By ROBT H. MODLIN

Jefferson Barracks is one of the largest and one of the better-known military camps in the United States. It is situated in a picturesque setting approximately nine miles from the busy and polyglot city of St. Louis, the pride and boast of any Missourian. Jefferson Barracks, during World War I, was famously known as the toughest infantry camp in the country and the men that issued from it carried the distinction into the front lines of Europe. It was a proud and confident and respected man that could say, "I received my training at Jefferson Barracks, Mo."

Umpteen thousand of trainees and permanent party personnel are billeted in hundreds of barracks—which are distinguishable from one another only by the number placed at the entrance to each—and a compound of hundreds of tents known as "Tent City." Inasmuch as the barracks are new, warmer, and easier to keep clean the men billeted in Tent City are more or less inclined to look upon the men from the barracks with visible disgust and disdain. Their only consolation appears to be that the tents will be cooler in the summer, although invulnerable to dust gales and severe wind and rain storms. But the careful observer will notice a strange pride in the somewhat meager living quarters being exercised by the Tent City men. All available space between and around the tents is being utilized for the planting of grass and for zealous decorative art. Too, WPA workers are slowly progressing with the transplanting of grass sod to the areas surrounding the barracks, and the sides of the numerous drill field bowls. Due to natural woodland surroundings, Jefferson Barracks, by mid-summer, will be the most picturesque of any Air Corps Reception and Training Center in the country. That, at least, appears to be the goal of the administrative personnel and knowing their reputation for thoroughness, the realization is almost conceivable.

Upon his arrival at Jefferson Barracks the draftee is assigned to a squadron and a flight, i. e., Flight C-355th Squadron, and designated as a "Processor." The processing is of one week's duration and consists of the following activities:

1. Required attendance at many lectures and movies relating to phases of army life that are as important to the tenderfoot soldier as the rules of any new game are to a beginner. The subjects thoroughly covered are: Military Law, Military Courtesy and Customs of the Service, First Aid and Sanitation, Infantry Drill, Chemical Warfare, Sex Hygiene, and Interior Guard Duty.

2. Inoculations for Diphtheria, Tetanus, Yellow Fever, Small-Pox and Typhoid. The reaction from these "shots" usually depreciate the spirit of the trainee almost fifty per cent, and serves to mark the exercises of the week indelibly in his mind, in that the memory of taking the shots recalls what preceded them.

3. Two days of preliminary drill. The trainee is instructed in the School of the Soldier, i. e., the hand salute and the facings; merely an introduction to the drill that is to follow.

Incidental to the foregoing activities are frequent "G. I." parties. When the trainee has assisted in scrubbing, on hands and knees, the floor of the barracks; in dusting thoroughly every thing in the building; in washing all the windows, and in polishing all the fixtures in the latrine, he has attended a G. I. party. And is usually satisfied to spend the remainder of the evening in his bunk, writing letters, exchanging chatter, etc.

Following upon the heels of "processing" and falling under the term "processing," generally, are eighteen days of intensive drill without the rifle; seven hours a day, six days a week. Upon satisfactory completion of the drill period, which is concluded by a personal appearance before the Colonel, the Processor becomes a "Casual," or a man who has completed his basic training and is available for shipment to an Air Corps base in the United States or abroad.

Many persons request information regarding the meals and the type of entertainment procurable at J. B. The following statements are true and authoritative because they are the essence of personal observation and experience.

Food Is Wonderful
The meals served at Jefferson Barracks are excellent not only in the variety of dishes, but also in their vitamin content. Only chefs who have attained expert proficiency in the culinary art are allowed to prepare meals for the officially approved menu for the umpteen thousands of men here stationed. At all the camp dining halls the cafeteria style of serving is applied. The servings are heaping, and the variety of food abundant. The dinner today may be used as an example: T-bone steak (large, tender, juicy), mashed potatoes and brown gravy, head-lettuce salad, creamed peas, green string beans, ice cream and cookies, coffee, butter, and bread. A meal to make any man sing with joy, and to make his stomach cry for mercy! If today the aforesaid meal failed to satiate any voracious appetite the afflicted individual was, and always is, at liberty to secure second and third helpings. There absolutely is no excuse for any soldier unsatisfied to leave the dining hall; for no human stomach has the capacity to hold the "load" obtainable.

The entertainment and fields for relaxation, too, leave nothing to be desired. All the sports known to the American boy may be found in session, at their regular seasons, here at J. B. The finest sport equipment procurable is made available to the enlisted men in great quantities. And competition between squadrons to determine the "champion" is incessantly encouraged by the administrative personnel. So ardent is the desire to foster and instill the competitive spirit in the American soldier that games necessitating body contact are allotted time on the daily drill schedule.

Four Post Theaters nightly show the latest releases from the film capital. The price of an evening's good entertainment is approximately fourteen cents if the coupon book is utilized, and twenty cents if cash is used. Usually every Friday a two feature program is presented; at all other times the feature is accompanied by a comedy and a newsreel, and not infrequently by a "special" of a big-name band, or the pictorial presentation of a popular radio program. It's just like the home theater!

Best In Entertainment

The best and most successful booster of army morale, no doubt, is the weekly U. S. O. show presented every Friday and Saturday evenings. The shows feature "big" names of the stage, screen, and radio and are, therefore, very popular with the soldiers. In order that every one will have an opportunity to see the shows the productions are presented twice during each of the two evenings. The celebrities who have made recent personal appearances at Jefferson Barracks are Martha Raye, Maxie Rosenbloom, the Dennis Sisters, Judy Garland, Abe Lyman and his band, Ada Leonard and Her All-American Girl Revue; other attractions have been "Junior Miss" and "Happy Go Lucky," musical comedies direct from Broadway, and "Funzafire," a riot of spine-tickling comedy. Soon, according to reports, Ann Sheridan of movie fame is bringing her "flaming" show to J. B., and a dozen other big names are in the offing to make personal appearances here. The shows are usually an hour and a half of riotous comedy, excellent singing and dancing, juggling acts, acrobatics, and special renditions by the stage orchestra. They all have one thing in common: There's never a dull moment. The soldiers receive each number, poor or good, enthusiastically; and the entertainers encounter with every ounce of talent at their command. Every show is "one big happy session."

Common Cause

Every rung of the social ladder is represented at J. B., and, inasmuch as almost every one, through the medium of newspapers and magazines, has a fair mental picture of this particular set-up in the army camps, it is perhaps best that I don't go into detail on the subject. It is, however, not a little surprising, and certainly a magnificent and inspiring sight, how easily the social strata blend into an impregnable wall when a Cause, common with them all, is at stake. It's truly an experience to be cherished and remembered as long as one lives. They seem to say as one man, "Brother American, we've got a job to do. Let's get on with it!"

We are aware that there is little room for sentimentality in a world stark mad with selfishness and lust and steeped in the blood of its people.

It is not pleasant daily to see a friend, or a squad of buddies, or a company of acquaintances each pack their meager belongings in a barracks bag and depart for a distant base; where most of them shall, after a brief period of conditioning, embark for service on foreign soil even the friendliness of which does not appreciatively alleviate the sorrow of parting with friends who have become links in the chain of our existence. It is like making the revision of a text: here scoring out word after word, there scoring out of paragraphs, and presently making scores by the page. It is misery treading on the heels of joy! And however light-hearted one tries to be at such times one uncontrollably becomes serious and thoughtful at the break; and, sometimes, as an especial friend disappears around the bend of the road one is not ashamed of the mist that wells in the eyes and bedims the sight. The farewells are always fruitless attempts at jollity and wild promises to write often and vain hopes of meeting soon somewhere again. But under that rugged, counterfeit exterior beats a heart knowingly aware that only a miracle will bring about the reunion or the fulfillment of the promises. And in that brusque reserve lies the strength that assures the survival of our Cause, for therein each man of them soulfully and wholeheartedly dedicates his energies to the consummation of the miracle, and the realization of his hopes and dreams. Yes, we are dreaming yet (as they before us dreamed together) every man soldier of us of an Elysium in waiting, and of a serene future, where the flowers of peace, of freedom, and of wisdom shall take root and blossom forth under the bright rays of God's beneficent

WLB Orders Judge to Go Ahead With T. P. W.

Washington, May 2—(AP)—Reaffirming its previous order, the War Labor Board yesterday directed Judge Benjamin C. Hilliard of the Colorado Supreme court to proceed on Monday with an investigation and arbitration of the dispute between the Toledo, Peoria & Western Railroad and the railroad brotherhoods.

The action by the board followed receipt of a telegram from George P. McNear, Jr., the road's president, that he would not accept arbitration. The short line railroad has been under federal government operation since Mar. 21.

rates will be made to plant employees who may obtain 12 or 24 ride tickets, but single fares will be accepted by the drivers.

Fred Miller of this city will be supervisor of all drivers of the buses who will be experienced and specially trained, all being residents of Dixon. The uniforms for the drivers are expected within a few days.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

Chicago, May 2 (AP)—Lawrence J. O'Connell, who last January resigned his post as chief security officer of the Illinois Industrial Commission, yesterday was named in three indictments charging embezzlement of $54,073 in commission funds. His bond was set at $15,000 and arraignment was ordered for next Tuesday in Criminal Court.

PERSONALS

The Misses Bettie Haines and Anna Jean Crabtree are spending today in Chicago.

Mrs. Irene Fenton of Peoria is spending a few days here as the guest of her brother, Earl Wendell, and Mrs. Alice Beede.

Leslie Corwin of Compton was a visitor in Dixon this morning.

Mrs. Fred Kersten of Ashton township was a shopper in Dixon today.

Earl Watts has gone to Indianapolis, Ind., on business.

EDW. T. BASSETT DIES

Champaign, Ill., May 2 (AP)—Edward T. Bassett, 75, city finance commissioner and member of the city council for 10 years, died yesterday in a hospital. Bassett, who also was a former city treasurer, had been in ill health for several months and recently underwent a major operation.

Isolationism Dead Says Committee of National Legion

Indianapolis, May 2 (AP)—The American Legion's national executive committee says "isolationism is dead" and "there can be no assurance of permanent national security except through world security."

The committee, ending a two-day meeting at headquarters yesterday, adopted a report to this effect from the Legion's coordinating committee, which had sounded out seven other organizations on the subject.

The executive committee passed to 11,000 Legion posts the question whether to let veterans of this war into the World War veterans organization.

The co-ordinating committee, proposing a thorough study of economic, social and political problems looking toward the post-war period, said it had consulted the National Grange, American Federation of Labor, National Association of Manufacturers, Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks, Knights of Columbus, B'Nai B'rith and the New York Grand Lodge of Masons.

The report said nearly all these organizations believed such a study should be predicated "upon an all-out effort to win the war, and upon the further all-out effort to win and hold peace after the war."

Anniversary of Tragedy

Monday will be the 68th anniversary of Dixon's greatest tragedy, the collapse of the Truesdale iron bridge across Rock river at Galena avenue on Sunday, May 4, 1874, bringing death to over forty people, members of a throng who had crowded onto the structure to witness baptismal rites in the river below.

Verdict for $3,983 Voted

A jury in the Lee county Circuit court late yesterday awarded damages in the total amount of $3,983 to Frank W. Scholl, administrator of the estate of Frank Lawrence Scholl, deceased, in a $10,000 suit against Arnold Spangler of Nachusa. The award fixed damages amounting to $3,500 for the death of the Scholl boy and $483 for personal injuries claimed to have been sustained by the plaintiff.

The War Today

clared that American troops "inevitably will join the commandos." It is likely that as conditions warrant we shall see not only but several raids simultaneously up and down the continental coast, destroying strong enemy positions and prodding for weak points in the German defense. Some day one of these raids will capture a port, and the commandos will get their feet firmly enough on the ground so that they can stick in the face of enemy counter-attacks.

That will provide a spearhead which can be followed up quickly with other troops and equipment. When we reach that happy day the invasion probably will be on, and it will have been inaugurated without risking a big army, an armada of transports, a massed naval force and a vast air-fleet all at one time.

Before such an operation can be successful, however, the British and American air-fighters must secure control of the air over western Europe. The Royal Air Force already has superiority, but it hasn't that supremacy which would enable it to give complete protection to a large scale land invasion. The Anglo-American forces are storming the German skies now not only to destroy war production and other military objectives but to wrest supremacy from the Nazi fliers.

This commando type of warfare, in which each man is taught to fend for himself in every way, under all conditions, is one of the remarkable developments of the war. The idea of using small, self-contained units for daring expeditions isn't new, of course, for our famous marines have been doing that sort of fighting ever since their foundation.

Parachute troops, such as the Germans used to capture Crete, also are a piece off the same cloth. However, the British have adapted the scheme to make it applicable to their entire army, which is being trained on this line.

Thus out of this innovation we may get one of the historic developments of military history, and one which will play a great part in the outcome of the war. Unusual conditions naturally produce inventions to meet them. We had a striking example of this in the first world conflict when the British developed the tank in 1916 to attack ahead of the infantry and handle strong points which otherwise couldn't be taken without great loss of life.

So the Commandos have been evolved to meet the emergency produced by the Nazi occupation of all the western coastline of Europe. A large scale allied invasion under such circumstances has been impossible up to this juncture, but highly useful raids could be conducted, and the Commandos were set in motion.

Whether allied invasion ultimately will be attempted as one great operation, or will develop as described above from some successful Commando raid, or raids, is something which can't be foreseen. In any event, an allied army trained and constructed on Commando lines presumably would have far greater striking power at the outset of an operation of this sort.

25,000 Employees of I. H. C. Get Wage Boosts Retroactive to Jan. 15

Chicago, May 2 (AP)—Thomas Fair Neblett, mediator officer of the National War Labor Board, announced that wage increases of 4 1/2 cents an hour retroactive to last Jan. 15 will be put into effect immediately for approximately 25,000 employees in eight middle western International Harvester Company plants.

The WLB granted the increase in an order last April 15 and at the same time directed establishment of "maintenance of union membership," a principal which the company accepted Thursday. The union security plan provides for membership in the majority union for the duration of the contract.

The retroactive pay is being computed, Neblett said, and will be distributed to employees of the eight plants, including three in Chicago, and one each in Rock Island, East Moline and Rock Falls, Ill., Springfield, O., and Milwaukee.

ABC Expenses Paid All Gravy from Here On Out

Columbus, O., May 2 (AP)—The local committee sponsoring the American Bowling Congress tournament here breathed easily today and hoped the final 12 days would bring good crowds.

In contrast with the tourney's 1933 visit to Columbus, when the local committee finished in the red, the 1942 meet pushed over the hump last night and from now on it's all profit.

High scorers Friday were Eckhardt & Becker of Detroit with 2773 in the five-man event, Edward Hitch and Mark Waldo of Erie, Pa., with 1223 in the doubles, and Glen Larrow of Monroe, Mich., with 670 in the singles.

Drive to Find Older Workers Jobs Is Now On

In a drive to encourage the hiring of older workers, the United States Employment Service is co-operating with all veteran organizations throughout the nation during the week May 3 to 9.

Manager F. W. Southwick of the Sterling office reported today.

This week has been set aside as "National Employment Week" by proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"The influence of the war production program has caused many employers of skilled workers to raise their age limits considerably," said Manager Southwick. "The part of the employment service in Employment Week will be to encourage employers in other lines of industry as well to consider skill, experience and ability rather than mere calendar years, when hiring workers."

For some time it has been acknowledged—and substantial tests made in many industrial plants indicate—that there is a place for these men and other workers past forty in the tremendous war production program in which we are engaged. There is a place for them in jobs for which they are already fitted, and there is a place for them in job-training courses designed to build up the skills of the nation's manpower so essential in this crisis.

Today, with younger men being called into military service, industry must depend more and more upon the skilled hands and experienced minds of the older worker.

"Veterans of World War I and other workers past middle age should make it their part in National Employment Week to register their qualifications and work experience at their local United States Employment Service office," added Manager Southwick. "Whether or not we make this week a success for older workers depends upon the extent that all employers cooperate, those in industry, those in the manufacture or exchange of civilian goods, those in food production."

The Sterling office of the United States Employment Service is located at 212 Third avenue.

Vacation Camp for Soldiers at Decatur

Decatur, Ill., May 2 (AP)—On a wooded spot beside Lake Decatur the army opened a vacation resort for Chanutte Field soldiers today.

The rest camp, with enough tents to accommodate 500 men, was ready for the first group of 100 to show up so that dedication services could be held.

The tents have floors and frames. The mess hall and lounges are wooden structures. No bugles will be blown and the camp exists solely so that the men in uniform can get rest and relaxation.

Men whose homes are too far away and who don't have the money for a trip to the city can come to the rest camp on their furloughs. Others from Chanutte Field, big air corps base for the training of ground crews, will come here on week-end passes. In time, the camp will be used by men from Scott Field, near Belleville, and other camps.

ly around Hsenwi, 22 miles north-east of Lashio.

Meanwhile, invasion warnings sounded far down on Australia's east coast after anti-aircraft batteries at Townsville, 700 miles south of Cape York, fired on two unidentified planes which flew over the town yesterday at 30,000 feet altitude.

Attempts to intercept the planes were unsuccessful, allied headquarters reported.

Townsville lies 700 miles north of Brisbane.

Jap Bases Blasted

Far-ranging allied warplanes again blasted Japanese bases on the fringe of islands north of Australia, bombing an enemy air-drome at Gasmata, New Britain, and shooting down two Japanese planes over New Guinea.

In the Philippines, Lieut. Jonathan Wainwright's siege-bound fortress underwent violent new attacks by Japanese dive-bombers and artillery as the enemy sought to knock out the forts guarding the entrance to Manila bay.

On Mindanao island, 600 miles south of Manila, Japanese troops which landed several days ago on the west coast were reported moving inland and attempting to cross the Rio Grande river against resistance by small American-Filipino forces.

MacARTHUR'S REPORT

Allied Headquarters, Australia, May 2 (AP)—General MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today that two suspicious warplanes which flew far down Australia's east coast over the port of Townsville were fired on by anti-aircraft batteries yesterday while allied airmen again were raining bombs on the enemy air-drome at Gasmata, New Britain.

As American and Australian planes kept up their daily assaults on Japanese bases threatening Australia, a correspondent of the Melbourne Herald warned that the allied air force was facing heavy odds and urgently needed more planes, men and bombs in order to keep strategic Port Moresby, New Guinea, secure.

The planes sighted over Townsville, about 700 miles below Cape York, Australia's northeasternmost area, were not identified and the communiqué said attempts to intercept them were unsuccessful.

The planes were at an altitude of about 30,000 feet in a cloudless sky—ideal for aerial photography or scouting. The whole region around Townsville immediately was put on the alert for a possible air raid or invasion attempt.

Gasmata lies about 240 miles northeast of Lae, Japanese base on the New Guinea coast at which United States and Australian airmen have struck repeatedly during the past week. Together the two bases give the enemy a measure of control over the 100-mile-wide passage between New Guinea and New Britain, strategic gateway to the waters immediately north of Australia.

Continue Salvage Campaign Here for Duration of War

A most successful Salvage for Victory campaign closed in Dixon yesterday with a fine response by citizens to the program. Mrs. Frances Hart, general chairman, today reported on the total collections for the five days as follows:

42,325 pounds of scrap metal, paper and rubber; 1,730 pounds rags; 166 pounds scrap aluminum, brass and copper; total 44,221 pounds. The sale of these brought $163.57 which is to be turned over to the USO fund, of which Lee county's quota is $1,450.

Mrs. Hart, chairman, and her committee members, the Rev. Fr. T. L. Walsh, Paul Armstrong, Mrs. E. B. Bryan, Mrs. Carl Goff, Mrs. Gordon Bennett, Mrs. I. B. Hoefler, Mrs. Frank Hoyle and Mrs. James Traynor, today extended their appreciation to the citizens of Dixon for their fine response to the program, which is to be continued for the duration.

Collect Grease, Fats

The committee extended special appreciation to the firm of Sinow & Wiennan, salvage collectors, who generously loaned the use of their fleet of trucks and the services of their employees in collecting the salvage over the five zones throughout the city.

Mrs. Hart called the attention to several organizations in the city which will continue the collection of salvage, urging that they contact her to arrange for future collection and disposal. The Salvage for Victory committee is now engaged in the collection of grease and fats to be taken to the local food markets which have been designated as collection centers.

Sugar Rationing Affects Every Man, Woman and Child in United States; Questions Concerning It Answered

On May 4, 5, 6 or 7 every person in the United States must register for Sugar Rationing. At the request of Governor Dwight H. Green, State Rationing Administrator, Henry Pope, Jr., has made available to The Evening Telegraph a list of questions and official answers concerning sugar rationing in Illinois.

Question: If I am issued a War Ration Book and four stamps are taken from it because I happen to have on hand six pounds of sugar, can I take the book immediately to my grocer and purchase sugar with stamp number five?

Answer: You cannot. Stamp number five will not be good for sugar until the time for it to be honored is announced by Office of Price Administration.

Q. How much sugar can I get with each stamp?

A. You may buy one pound of sugar with each of the first four stamps.

Q. How long is each stamp good for?

A. Each stamp will be good for the period to be announced by the Office of Price Administration.

Q. Can I save the stamps and get all my sugar at one time?

A. No. Each stamp is good only for the announced period.

Q. Do we each have to take our War Ration Books in person to the store in order to buy sugar?

A. No. Anyone may take your War Ration Book to buy sugar, provided he buys sugar for you. The mother, father, or any one of the children, or any person connected with a family may take some or all of the War Ration Books to the grocer to buy the entire household's supply of sugar.

Q. May I tear out a stamp and take it to the store to buy sugar?

A. No. You must take the War Ration Book with you and tear out the stamp in the presence of the storekeeper or his employee.

Q. Suppose I order sugar by telephone?

S. O. S. IN WAR WORK, ADVERTISER TO AID CAR CONSERVATION

Although concentrating on war production of fuel and lubricants for the armed forces, war industries and the farm front, Standard Oil Co. of Indiana will continue advertising to the motoring public in 1942 by promoting car conservation, it was announced today by Earl J. Kionka, Dixon, Standard agent.

"Newspapers, as before, will receive most of the advertising," Mr. Kionka declared. "The spring and summer campaign will feature case histories of how motorists are achieving maximum mileage from their tires and automobiles." A total of 1,816 newspapers with a combined circulation of 14,625,139 will carry the advertising in the thirteen states in the midwest in which the company markets. This consists of 1,276 weekly papers, and 540 daily papers, including The Dixon Telegraph.

The case history of a set of tires which has traveled 45,104 miles and is still in use opens the newspaper advertising campaign, which will feature large and attractive illustrations and catchy headlines, Mr. Kionka said. A car purchased in 1938 that is still traveling after 103,555 miles will furnish another case history, and the importance of quality gasoline and oil, accurate tire gauges and the Standard Oil Dealers' Tire-Life Estimator Chart for such car conservation will be explained.

In radio broadcasts beginning April 27 Standard of Indiana will award United States war bonds to farmers for outstanding agricultural accomplishments. Everett Mitchell, well known farm news commentator, will also be heard with farm news during the broadcasts at noon six times a week for thirteen weeks over ninety radio stations.

PIPIN' OFF . . . we're breathing freely today . . . both the Cubs and Sox broke their losing streaks yesterday . . . when Fire Chief Sam Cramer viewed the score results he looked up and said "ya' just can't tell what's gonna' happen in these troublesome times of war and strife" . . . it is rather puzzling how they did it . . . but we're satisfied with the Sox being through with that seven-game losing spree . . . now if they'll just come through today and put the Athletics in the cellar we'll have a perfectly enjoyable Sunday.

RAINED OUT . . . Coach A. C. Bowers' Duke cindermen went over to Rochelle yesterday afternoon for a three-way meet with Mt. Morris being the third member . . . due to the storm Mt. Morris didn't show up . . . and when the elements subsided a bit the Dukes and the Hubs started a dual meet between themselves and the Dukes were doing nicely and would have certainly won the meet if the rains hadn't have come again and everybody went home dampened down and disgruntled . . . nevertheless, a few events were run off with the following Dukes doing nicely . . . Weidman and Potts won first and second in the century sprint, respectively . . . Koth took a second in the high barriers and Hoeman ran in third . . . the Dukes slammed the quarter mile run with VanMeter first, Ommen second and Woodworth third . . . Weigle won the mile for Dixon and Johnson came in third . . . three boys were tied in the pole vault as the rains became unbearable . . . Hoeman, Koth and one Hub athlete . . . Quilhot got a second in the shot put . . . Cramer Mienke and Frey were all tied up in the high jump . . . Oswick, Risner, Brady and Schumacher copped off the frosh and soph 440 relay event . . . and that's as far as the meet got for literally speaking the boys almost had to be carried off the field in boats . . . the Dukes' next meet will take them to Sterling on Tuesday of next week for a dual affair with Coach Ted Scheid's outfit . . .

TODAY'S CHIP SHOT . . . the Dixon Country Club's doors were swung wide open yesterday to welcome in the 1942 season . . . it was announced today that the club house is near completion touches in readiness for complete usage . . . however, the official opening ceremonies with matches, dinner and all are still in the near offing of a week or two . . . the club's pro, Ralph Stonehouse, who was entered in the annual P. T. A. last season and made an excellent showing, will be again entered in the same meet this year if his early season duties don't become too many . . . if Ralph can get away for the tourney he'll be en route to Atlantic City, N. J., next week, at which place the 1942 P. T. A. will be played-off.

WELCOME . . . many of the local sport fans recently have been welcoming Herb Lewis to the local ranks . . . Herb and his family are taking up temporary residence in Dixon while he is connected with the Green River Ordnance project . . . this is an off-season job for Herb, for his regular duties consist of managing the Indianapolis Professional Hockey team . . . his team won the league championship this past season . . . his former playing connections in hockey were with the Toronto Maple Leafs . . . and he hails from the home-town of Duluth, Minn. . . .

FROM JEFFERSON BARRACKS . . . we received a couple of letters yesterday . . . one from Louis Leger of Franklin Grove and another from Martin Tayman of Dixon . . . Louis sent us a transcript of a review which was written by a boy in camp concerning Jefferson Barracks . . . we found it of great interest and so published it on Page 5 of today's issue . . . many boys from here have received their basic training at Jefferson, many are there now and probably many more from here will be there in the future . . . Martin reports that many of the local lads are still in his ranks and as yet have not been separated which is usual custom . . . those that Martin meets around the camp quite often and are from Dixon are . . . Gene Goddard . . . Joe Judge . . . and Ralph Nielson . . .

Three-Eye League to Start Tomorrow

Chicago, May 2.—(AP)—A six-team Three-Eye baseball league, with two clubs of last year's combination missing because of wartime conditions, will begin a four-month season tomorrow.

Opening day games start Waterloo to Evansville, Cedar Rapids to Decatur and Madison to Springfield, Clinton and Moline of the 1941 cast have no entries in this year's race.

Now a Class B circuit, the Three-Eye league first operated in 1901 and played every year until the depression caused it to suspend shortly after the start of the 1932 campaign.

There was no play in 1933 or 1934. Four teams went through a schedule in 1935 but the loop abandoned activity again the next year. In 1937 it resumed with six clubs, gained two more members for 1938 and continued at eight teams until this year.

Frisch Stirs Up Havoc in Pirate and Bums Game

Best Double Play Combination

Brooklyn Still Leads League; Cleveland Makes 12th in a Row as Tigers Take Over Second Place in American Circuit

(By Associated Press)

Now that Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been chased out of his own park, the major league baseball season can be considered officially under way.

Frisch, who sometimes resorts to pantomime when umpires aren't impressed with words, was waved to the showers by Larry Goetz in the ninth inning yesterday, but the Pirates went on to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 7-6, and snap a six-game winning streak for the National League champs.

The score was tied at 5-all when Billy Herman beat out an infield hit and Arky Vaughan sent him home with a double. Goetz called Herman safe on a close play at the plate and Catcher Al Lopez bounced the ball on the ground, threw his mask in one direction and his mitt in another. Frisch bounded out of the dugout as other Pittsburgh players hurled towels into the air and coach Jake Flowers joined the huddle at home plate.

As usual, however, the umpire won, the Dodgers got their run, and Frisch, Lopez and Flowers took early showers.

The defeat shaved a full game off the Dodgers' lead and enabled the second-place Pirates to climb within three lengths of the pace-setters.

Meanwhile, the Cleveland Indians stretched their winning streak to a dozen games by routing the Washington Senators, 7-2, and increased their first-place margin in the American League to two games and a half.

The Detroit Tigers also staged a 16-hit bombardment in walloping the New York Yankees, 7-2, and hopping over the World Champions into the American League's runner-up spot.

Ted Williams slumped with two singles and a home run, but it didn't help the Boston Red Sox, who went down before the St. Louis Browns, 10-6. John Niggeling toiled the route for the Browns, although he gave up 11 blows.

The Chicago White Sox ended a seven-game losing streak and came within 28 percentage points of climbing out of the cellar by bumping the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-2, behind the six-hit hurling of Johnny Rigney.

Five of the afternoon's 15 home runs came at St. Louis, where the Cardinals tripped the Boston Braves, 8-7, in 10 innings, and replaced them in third place in the National League.

Stan Musial hit two of the Cards' four homers, the second of which was good for two runs that tied the score in the ninth. Ken O'Dea came through with the payoff blast, a homer in the last of the tenth.

The Chicago Cubs pulled the New York Giants into a fifth-place tie with them by taking a free-swinging contest, 13-9, and the Cincinnati Reds tightened up in the late inning to save a 6-5 verdict over the Philadelphia Phils.

Chicago Team Leads Columbus Tournament

Aurora, Ill., May 2.—(AP)—Joe Wilman's Budweisers of Chicago, current leaders of the American Bowling Congress in Columbus, tonight will attempt to add the Illinois State Bowling championship to their laurels.

Averaging well over 1,000 pins a game in two of Chicago's strongest leagues this year, the Buds are heavy favorites to top the current state field which is paced by a 2,995 series.

On the same squad with the ABC leaders will be the defending state champs, the Reichmanns of Cicero, and the two immediate past National winners,

Sox Break Losing Streak and Defeat Athletics 5 to 2

Philadelphia, May 2.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox broke a seven-game losing streak yesterday behind the six-hit pitching of Johnny Rigney, defeating the Athletics 5-2.

The loss was doubly disastrous to the A's, who lost the services of Second Baseman Billy Knickerbocker in the seventh. He broke a thumb in deflecting Rookie Bob Kennedy's single.

The Sox put the game away in the fourth, erasing a one-run A's lead. With two out, Joe Kuhel singled and stole second. Max West walked and then Kennedy singled, scoring both Kuhel and West. Kennedy came home on Tommy Turner's double. In the ninth Turner walked, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Wally Moses' single. Box score:

Seventeen Rose Contenders To Run For Large Purse In 68th Kentucky Derby Today 5:30 p. m.; Requested Favorite

Louisville, May 2.—(AP)—Seventeen highly-tuned three-year-old horses brought their argument over the distribution of $87,250 to Churchill Downs stretch today in the 68th edition of the sporting world's most colorful spectacle—the Kentucky Derby.

As thousands of visitors joined the natives in turning this city into a Roman holiday, the trainers of the 15 colts and two geldings pronounced their charges ready for the mile and quarter test of speed and stamina starting at about 5:30 p. m., Central War Time.

To the winner will go $65,225 net, a garland of roses and recognition as the No. 1 candidate for three-year-old turf honors of 1942.

In all probability not more than 15 of the overnight entries will parade to the post as the band strikes up the Derby's theme song—"My Old Kentucky Home". Trainers have until 45 minutes before post time to scratch, in which case the size of the purse to the winner will be reduced $500 for each horse withdrawn.

Meanwhile, high in his sanctum overlooking the vast downs, Col. Matt Winn predicted that his dream would finally come true and there would be a crowd of 100,000.

As late as 24 hours ago there were indications the crowd would not measure up to that of recent years, but overnight the people came—by train, airplane, cars, buses and even Ohio river steamboats. They thronged the hotels, jammed the streets and taxed the hospitality of the home folks who have been accustomed to seeing their city taken over once a year by a fun-loving, free-spirited throng.

The Downs itself was dressed in all its best bib and tucker, but by nightfall there'll be little of its beauty left, with the mob over-running every nook and corner in an effort to get a glimpse of the horses as they start at the head of the stretch, dash past the grandstand the first time, pound their way down the backstretch and then turn in the last quarter-mile—the quarter-mile that has broken the heart of many a good horse.

No Standout

In fact, there is little indication off past performances just how far and how fast any of the field can go. As a result the experts have been up in the air for weeks. Al Sabath's Alsab won ten straight races last year and headed into his three-year-old campaign, apparently unbeatable.

But the little Chicago-owned colt has yet to have his nose in front in 1942, with the result he has no better than 4 to 1 in the early betting. In his stead at the top of the books was the one-two punch of David Diver and Shut Out from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable and Ben Whitaker's game little Texan, Requested, who was held at 3 to 1.

Mrs. Whitney's pair was quoted at 7 to 2 largely because of David Diver and Eddie Arcaro, who won with Lawrin in 1938 and Whirlaway last year.

Also highly considered at 5 to 1 was the Irish-bred Hollywood. Sun Again, although not considered by Ben Jones to be at his peak, was quoted at 6 to 1 off his Derby trial race, Tuesday, when he lost by a nose to Valinda Orphan, also quoted at 6 to 1.

Odds on the others stretched all the way to 25 to 1 against the six horses coupled in the mutual field and Dogpatch. Sweep Swinger, one of the geldings, was placed in the field, indicating the group of six might draw a heavy play as the Detroit-owned bean pole gelding is rather well liked in many circles.

Ohio State and Michigan Finally Lose Games in Big Ten Baseball League

Chicago, May 2.—(AP)—Ohio State and Michigan dropped from the undefeated ranks in the Big Ten baseball chase yesterday while Iowa forged into undisputed leadership.

Bob Faber, big Iowa right-hander, was headed for a no-hit, no-run stint until Dick Reynolds shattered his dream with a Texas-leaguer in the fifth. That was the only blow Chicago got as the Hawkeyes won, 1-0, their sixth conference triumph in seven starts.

Wisconsin opened its season with a 6-3 verdict over Illinois on Ed Scheive's five-hitter. It was his first start in a college game after being converted into a hurler when injuries struck out several Badger moundmen.

Harry McFerrer dashed home on an infield out in the last half of the ninth to give Purdue a 6-3 count over Ohio State. The Bucks shelled Sophomore Paul Petrick in the last inning but Walter Liefheit quelled the outburst.

Guy Wellman's steal home and Bob White's circuit blow were instrumental in cracking Michigan's spirit and giving Indiana a 6-4 victory.

The Northwestern at Minnesota game was postponed and a double-header is scheduled today.

Host School Wins the Beloit Relays

Beloit, Wis., May 2.—(AP)—Beloit College won the championship of its own relay carnival last night for the first time in the six-year history of the event.

The winners amassed 54 points, led by Dick Raddant, who anchored two winning relay teams, successfully defended his broad jump championship and won the award as the outstanding athlete of the show.

Monmouth (Ill.) with 36.5 points, edged out Cornell, Mount Vernon, Ia., with 36.41 points, for second.

Dave Clutterham, Cornell, tied Raddant for scoring honors by winning the mile and also anchoring two winning relays teams.

Clutterham's 4:24.2 mile and Raddant's 23 foot 3 1/2 inch broad jump were among best performances of the meet. No records were set.

Other defending champions besides Raddant to repeat were Roy Glendenning, St. Ambrose, Davenport, Ia., who won the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat; Paul McCall, Bradley Tech, Peoria, Ill., in the shot put and Jack Preston, North Central, Naperville, Ill., in the pole vault.

Cornell won the two-mile and distance medley relays, together with the freshmen distance medley. Beloit took the 440 and 880-yard relays while North Central copped the mile team event. Great Lakes defeated Camp Grant in a special mile relay for servicemen. Monmouth's shuttle hurdle relay squad turned in a creditable winning time of 48.8 seconds.

Roy Cochran, Great Lakes, beat out Max Lenoer, Chicago Loyola, by two yards in an exhibition 600-yard race. His time was 1 minute, 13.9 seconds over the world record.

Point score of the Beloit relays:

HOW TO DETECT COUNTERFEIT COINS

1. KNOW YOUR MONEY!
2. RING all coins on a hard surface. Genuine coins sound clear and bell-like. Counterfeits sound dull.
3. FEEL all coins. Most counterfeit coins feel greasy.
4. COMPARE the reeding (the corrugated outer edge) of a suspected coin with one known to be genuine. The ridges on genuine coins are distinct and evenly spaced. On counterfeit coins they are poorly spaced and irregular.

HOW TO CASH GOVERNMENT CHECKS

1. KNOW YOUR ENDORSERS!
2. DEMAND definite identification of the payee.
3. COMPARE endorsement on check with signature on identification.
4. WPA workers carry cards with identification number, signature and physical description. If you cash WPA checks, compare these three things and make sure the description fits that of the person presenting the check.
5. BE CAUTIOUS about cashing a check on which the payee's address is far removed from your place of business.
6. REMEMBER—You may lose the amount of any Government check which has not been endorsed by the rightful payee.
7. MAKE A CHECK BEFORE YOU TAKE A CHECK!!

The above notice, and the one printed below, are part of the national educational campaign of the United States Secret Service.

SPECIMEN WARNING NOTICE

Send postcard to Secret Service asking to be placed on mailing list.

VERY DANGEROUS $10 COUNTERFEIT

FEDERAL RESERVE NOTE
WHEN YOU RECEIVE A GREEN SEAL BILL WITH 118 OR D91 CHECK LETTERS AND NUMBERS! COMPARE IT WITH A GENUINE BILL!

THE COUNTERFEIT PORTRAIT WILL BE EITHER TOO BLACK OR TOO LIGHT, AND WILL LACK THE DELICATE DETAIL OF THE GENUINE.

PLACE THIS NOTICE ON OR NEAR YOUR CASH REGISTER

WHEN A STRANGER GIVES YOU A COUNTERFEIT BILL

1. DO NOT RETURN IT!
2. TELEPHONE POLICE AT ONCE!
3. DELAY THE PASSER UNDER A PRETEXT
4. AVOID ARGUMENT, IF NECESSARY, TELL THEM THE POLICE WILL HANDLE THE MATTER.
5. WRITE DOWN A DESCRIPTION IF THE PASSER LEAVES.
6. TAKE THE TAG NUMBERS OF ANY CARS INVOLVED.

Rev. and Mrs. Carl Montanus and family will go to Elizabeth Sunday where Rev. Montanus will deliver the baccalaureate address for the graduating class of the Elizabeth high school. They will spend a few days visiting friends there where Rev. Montanus was

IT'S YOUR WAR!!

WHAT SHOULD YOU PLEDGE TO HELP? The following table issued by the Treasury Department is INTENDED AS A SAVINGS YARDSTICK for the average income-earner. It suggests how everyone of the 48,000,000 employed persons in the United States may participate in the war effort through the SYSTEMATIC purchase of War Savings Bonds.

"The job ahead of us is far bigger than most of us realize," Secretary Morgenthau has pointed out. "I know that the American people are ready to do their part to win the war. One of the ways we can do much more is by intensifying our effort in the purchase of War Bonds."

While persons WITHOUT dependents may be able to set aside MORE than the suggested figures, persons with several dependents, or with other family obligations, may be UNABLE to save at the suggested rate, the Treasury Department pointed out.

If Weekly Earnings Are	And One Saves Each Week	In One Year He Will Save
$ 5 to $ 10	$.25	$ 18.00
$ 10 to $ 15	$.50	$ 26.00
$ 15 to $ 20	$.75	$ 39.00

O. E. S. Notes

Garent chapter, O. E. S., held their regular meeting Monday night. Plans were completed for "friends' night" which will be held May 11. All members are urged to be present on this special night.

In the Larson Home

Mrs. Jessie Smith, Miss Rose Salzman, Richard Smith of Oregon; Robert Smith of Chicago were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Larson and family. Robert Smith, who is a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has recently been called for military service.

Attended O. E. S.

Mr. and Mrs. William Herbst and Mrs. Blanche Cryor accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jacob to Troy Grove Wednesday night where they attended guest night of the Prudentia chapter, O. E. S. Mrs. Raymond Jacob acted as guest treasurer.

Young Men Honored

Mr. Neil A. Fox: We place below a list of the names of former pupils of your school who are this year included in the University of Illinois honor list.

"Honors Day" was established here in 1925, and our eighteenth annual Honors Day Convocation will be held in the university auditorium at 10:15 o'clock on Friday morning, May 1. On this occasion the university gives public recognition to those students whose scholarship record ranks them within the first ten per cent of their class. Their friends are cordially invited to be present. The convocation exercises will be broadcast by the university station, WILL, 580 kilocycles.

For members of the senior, junior and sophomore classes the basis of the honors award is their scholarship record during the two semesters immediately preceding the current term. For freshmen, the basis is the record of their first semester's work.

Very truly yours, Thomas C. Shedd, chairman, for the Honors Day Committee. TCS: MB Robert Earl Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fish. John David Senger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senger.

Brethren Church

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. We hope to see every member of the Sunday school Sunday morning. It is the Lord's Day and the Lord is for worship. The subject for the Sunday school is "The Prince of Peace", found in Mark 1:1-11 and Luke 19:41-44.

Worship and sermon at 10:30. Subject "The Gospel in Your Life and Work". Special number by the choir.

The evening service will begin at 7:30. Special music by Harold Parks of Chicago on his marimba. We are also hoping to have a number by the Junior choir. And the sermon topic will be "Following God in the World Today". We invite you to each of these services to share in their worship.

S. L. Cover, Pastor Presbyterian Church Sunday school 9:30. Morning worship 9:50. Sermon "Broaden Your Horizon—Or Else" Please note the change in time of the services.

Tuxis will meet next Wednesday evening at the church. Maurice Heckman will be the leader. All young folks are urged to be present.

Residents of the village and rural area included in the grade school district No. 58 will be able to register for the Sugar ration books on Wednesday, May 6th at the Kersten gymnasium from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. The local grade school will be dismissed for the day so that the teachers may assist in this registration.

It should be remembered that only one adult in each family is to make out the separate applications that will be needed by each member of their family unit. Important information that should be brought along will include data of each applicant; height, weight, color of eyes and hair, age and sex.

Any person unable to register on Wednesday will be permitted to register at the office of the high school the following day, May 7th.

No Widespread Farm Labor Shortage in Ill.

Decatur, Ill., May 2—(AP)—Federal Agricultural agencies have disclosed that as yet there is no widespread farm labor shortage in Illinois.

Although many farmers are working longer hours, they should finish their springwork without encountering much difficulty, said A. J. Surratt of Springfield, a member of the Illinois USDA war board.

Chairman Lee M. Gentry of Decatur, however, reported that labor shortages were acute in the vicinity of ordinance and other war plants and that farmers would be confronted with further difficulties during the harvest season.

The officials reported that many high school boys have been offered jobs on farms and that farm women are aiding in field work.

GOP Nominations in 1st State District Contested

Chicago, May 2—(AP)—Two suits were on file in Circuit court today contesting the April 14 Republican nominations in the First District of Hobart E. Neff for state senator and Ernest A. Green and Edward A. Welters for state representatives.

In asking a recount, Harris B. Gaines contested the nomination of Neff and charged that unqualified voters were allowed to ballot. Gaines polled 1,343 votes; Neff, 1,558, and Daniel Serritella, the incumbent, 1,095.

Rep. Arthur T. Broche made similar charges contesting the house nominations. The official canvas showed Broche polled 2,585 votes; Green, 4,135, and Welters 2,698.
